Easter Week 1: ‘A Christmas Carol’
Monday 6th April – Friday 10th April

Learning Objective: To be able to revise key characters in the text.

Ebenezer Scrooge

At the start of the novella Scrooge is portrayed very negatively, as someone who only cares about money – he is described as ‘a squeezing, wrenching, grasping, scraping, clutching, covetous old sinner!’

He is so miserly and mean that he begrudges Bob Cratchit his Christmas wages, and won’t allow him a decent fire.

In a vision of Scrooge’s past, his fiancée, Belle, says that Scrooge sees money as if it’s a god, and his love for it is greater than his love for Belle.

Task 1: Re-read Staves 1 and 5. Make notes on the character of Scrooge.

Task 2: Find a quote from the first chapter to back up each of these statements.

a) Scrooge is Selfish.

b) Scrooge is isolated from society.
Task 3: Complete the table to show Scrooge’s views about the following subjects in the first and last chapter of the novella.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject</th>
<th>Scrooge’s view in Stave 1</th>
<th>Scrooge’s view in Stave 5</th>

Easter Week 2: ‘A Christmas Carol’
Monday 13\textsuperscript{th} April – Friday 17\textsuperscript{th} April

Learning Objective: To be able to revise key characters in the text.

\textbf{Fred}

Fred arrives in Scrooge’s offices ‘all in a glow’ and ‘his eyes sparkled’ – this emphasises the warmth and friendliness of his character. He’s the opposite of Scrooge, who’s associated with the cold.

Fred disagrees with Scrooge’s miserly values. He thinks that Scrooge’s wealth is useless because ‘he don’t do any good with it’ – suggesting that, unlike Scrooge, he values happiness more than money.

He is empathetic – he’s ‘heartily sorry’ for the Cratch family after Tim dies, even though he barely knows them. This contrasts with Scrooge, who begins the novel as a self-centred person who doesn’t care about others.

Dickens uses Fred as a foil to Scrooge’s character. The differences between them emphasise Scrooge’s negative qualities.

\textbf{Task 1:} Re-read Staves 1 and 3.

\textit{Make notes on the character of Fred.}

\textbf{Task 2:} Find two quotations that associate Fred with warmth.

\textbf{QUOTE 1:}

\textbf{QUOTE 2:}
Task 3: Decide whether each statement is true or false. Find a quote to back up your answer.

a) Fred Shares Scrooge’s opinion of Christmas. True / False

QUOTE:

b) Fred thinks Scrooge should be punished for his cruelty. True / False

QUOTE:

c) Fred feels sympathy for the Cratchits. True / False

QUOTE:

Task 4: Complete the same outlining the similarities and differences between Scrooge and Fred.

<th>Both…</th>
<th>Only Fred…</th>

MINI ESSAY – 500 words

Dickens gives Fred and Scrooge very different personalities. Why do you think this? Use quotations to support your points.

Summer Week 1: Power and Conflict poetry
Monday 20th April – Friday 24th April

Learning Objective: To be able to explore the poem ‘Ozymandias’.

‘Ozymandias’ – Percy Bysshe Shelley (page 26 in your anthology)

Task 1: Write a 200 word description inspired by this image.

Thinking questions:
1. Why are statues created in honour of people?
2. How does it change your view if you know that the person ordered the creation of their own statue?

Shelley was a Romantic poet, and was very critical of the British monarchy and forms of government. He sympathised with the principles of the French revolution which began in 1789. At the time of publication, English readers would have made links between Ozymandias and Napoleon. Napoleon (considered a tyrant) had two years previously conquered and defeated his opponents, making himself a ruler if almost all of Europe.

He was defeated at the Battle of Waterloo in 1815 and then exiled – two years before the poem was written.

Romantic poets believed in emotion rather than reason, tried to capture intense experiences in their work and particularly focused on the power of nature.
Rameses the Great

This poem is based on a story Shelley had read about a funeral temple of the Egyptian pharaoh, Rameses II, whom the Greeks called Ozymandias.

According to the story, the temple bore an inscription which read: ‘I am Ozymandias, king of kings; if anyone wishes to know how great I am and the place where kings like me lie, let him surpass any of my works.’

Rameses II during his reign built more temples and monuments, took more wives (8) and had more children (over 100) than any other pharaoh.

He wanted to built memorials for himself, which he imagined would last forever.

However, he used slave labour to build them and the slaves suffered hardship under his control.

Today, many of these memorials and statues have crumbled into the sands of the desert.

Task 3: Match the words to their definition

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Word</th>
<th>Definition</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Tyrannical</td>
<td>maintain influence or authority over</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Controlling</td>
<td>assert one’s will over another in an arrogant way</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Destructive</td>
<td>exercising power in a cruel or arbitrary way</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dictatorial</td>
<td>having or showing a wish to do evil to others.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abusive</td>
<td>of or typical of a ruler with total power</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Malevolent</td>
<td>causing great and irreparable damage</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Domineering</td>
<td>engaging in or characterized by habitual violence and cruelty.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Task 4: Watch the following video from MR Bruff about the poem.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=d_Egz2bDQ0o&list=PLqGFsWf-PcAO64lBHZFwTz2X0DD_Cxk

Task 5: Add any annotations from the video to your poem.
Task 6: Answer the following questions in full sentences and use quotes to support your answers.

a) What form does the poem take?
b) What word is used to describe the land where the traveller has been?
c) Why has the king built this statue?
d) How has the statue been destroyed?
e) Why do you think the poem is set in a ‘vague’ land?
f) Why do you think ‘Nothing beside remains’ comes directly after the ruler’s proud inscription?
g) What does the poem suggest about the way Ozymandias rules?
h) How might Shelley’s status as a ‘romantic’ poet have affect the tone of the poem?

"Ozymandias" explores the question of what happens to tyrant kings, and to despotic (tyrannical) world leaders more generally. As we all know, nothing lasts forever; that means even the very worst political leaders – no matter how much they boast – all die at some point. If Shelley were writing this poem now, he might take as his subject the famous statue of Saddam Hussein that was pulled down after the dictator was overthrown. Like the fallen statue in Baghdad, the broken-down statue of Ozymandias in Shelley’s poem points to the short-lived nature of political regimes and tyrannical power.

MINI ESSAY – 500 words

How is the power of nature presented in the poem? Use quotations to support your points.

Summer Week 1: Power and Conflict poetry
Monday 27th April – Friday 1st May

Learning Objective: To be able to explore the poem ‘London’.

‘London’ – William Blake (page 27 of your anthology)

Task 1: Write a 200 word description inspired by this image.

Task 2: Write a paragraph explaining what this picture tells us about life in London in the 18th Century?

So what was the ‘Romantic’ movement?

- "Nature" was celebrated
- A reaction to the Enlightenment (science and reason – the rational)
- Self-expression becomes important – not stereotypes but individuals
- The Romantics asserted the importance of the individual and individual authority
- Romantics generally rejected absolute systems and institutions
- Freedom
- Industry was a threat to the natural world
- Hatred for the mechanical and industrial
- Don’t believe in God- but want to find similar feelings towards nature (to be in awe of it)
- Not Obsessed with money
- The irrational – don’t want everything to be explained or understood
- The exotic and natural
- No constraints/limits

Task 3: Read the poem (page 27 in your anthology).
The poem describes a journey around London, offering a glimpse of what the speaker sees as the terrible conditions faced by the inhabitants of the city. Child labour, restrictive laws of property and prostitution are all explored in the poem. The poem starts with a criticism of laws relating to ownership. The ‘charter’d Thames’ is a bitter reference to the way in which every aspect of life in London is owned. Blake’s poem also criticises religion and its failures. The speaker draws attention to the cry of the chimney sweeper and the blackening of church walls, implying that the church as an institution is inactive, unwilling to help those in need.

It ends with a vision of the terrible consequences to be faced as a result of sexually transmitted diseases and prostitution.
Task 5: Watch the following video from MR Bruff about the poem.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zHp8eVl27Nw&list=PLqGFsWf-PcAO64lBHZTFwTz2X0DD_Cxk&index=2

Task 5: Add any annotations from the video to your poem.

Task 6: Answer the following questions in full sentences. Use quotes to support your answers.

a) Why do you think the poem is written in the first person?
b) What is the effect of repetition in the poem?
c) What does the phrase ‘mind-forged manacles’ (line 8) suggest about the people of London?
d) What is the effect of setting the final stanza on ‘midnight streets’?
e) What does the first stanza tell you the speaker is doing?
f) What does the phrase ‘the hapless soldier’s sigh / runs in blood down palace wall’ (lines 11-12) suggest about the narrator’s opinion of people in power?
g) How do you think a romantic poet would view the effects of the Industrial Revolution in a city like London?

Task 7: Find a quote that addresses each of the following themes and explain the effect of the quote.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Theme</th>
<th>Quote</th>
<th>Explanation</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Hopelessness</td>
<td></td>

Who was William Blake?

He was born in Soho, London, where he lived most of his life, and was son to a hosier and his wife, both Dissenters. Blake's early ambitions lay not with poetry but with painting and at the age of 14, after attending drawing school, he was apprenticed to James Basire, engraver. After his seven-year term was complete, Blake studied at the Royal Academy, but he is known to have questioned the aesthetic doctrines of its president, Sir Joshua Reynolds, and his stay there was brief. It nonetheless afforded him friendships with John Flaxman and Henry Fuseli, academics whose work may have influenced him.

In 1784, he set up a print shop, but within a few years the business floundered and for the rest of his life Blake eked out a living as an engraver and illustrator. His wife, Catharine, whom he married in 1782, remained faithful and diligent and she helped him to print the illuminated poetry for which he is remembered today.

In 1789, he published his Songs of Innocence, the gentlest of his lyrics, but the collection was followed by Songs of Experience, containing a profound expression of adult corruption and repression. His long list of works shows relentless energy and drive. As one of the most complex writers known, it is impossible to summarise his career - he was a combination of extremes. His vision of civilisation as inevitably chaotic and contradictory mirrors the political turmoil of his era. It is only in retrospect that we can begin to appreciate his work and unravel its complex and allusive sources.

MINI ESSAY – 500 words
