Duration: 4 years

Starting salary: £13,419

Location: Solihull

What could you become?

In Solihull, you'll develop specialist skills in one of the following roles:

Electrical Engineering Technician: Do detailed and specialist work installing, testing and adjusting electrical systems and repairing any issues in the wiring of our buildings, machines and other equipment.

Machinist: Precision work, making components from specialist materials using hand and CNC machine tools, as well as measuring and checking they're exactly right for our requirements.

What you'll need

You'll need a minimum of 4 GCSEs (or equivalent) at grade 4/C which must include Maths, English Language, Science (excluding Biology) and one other subject at grade 4/C.

Beyond your qualifications, we want to see evidence that you're genuinely interested in the practical side of engineering or hands on activities. For example, we'd like to hear if you enjoy figuring out how things work; fixing things, or about an engineering or practical project you've done at school or home or a club you've been involved with. We'll provide you with a fantastic framework and all the opportunities you need to progress, but it'll be up to you to lead own your development. So, you must be full of initiative, adaptable, eager to learn and driven to succeed.
