

SEN Information Report 2024

Introduction

This SEN Information Report details provision for students with Special Educational Needs (SEN). It should be read in conjunction with the school's SEN Policy.

Smith's Wood Academy is committed to providing an appropriate and high quality education to all our students. We believe that all students, including those identified as having special educational needs, have a common entitlement to a broad and balanced academic, curriculum, which is accessible to them and enables them to be fully included in all aspects of school life. In accordance with our ethos, every student will be welcomed, respected, supported and valued, to develop into a well-balanced person, confident in their own abilities and able to take full advantage of the opportunities which arise in the future.

Smith's Wood Academy as a learning community is committed to ensuring success for all. This means that in all work with students we will aim to ensure that they:

- Achieve their potential and enjoy their learning;
- Achieve recognition for their hard work, participation and experiences;
- Have high aspirations for their chosen careers and for progress beyond the school on to training, education or employment
- Can make a positive contribution to the school, the community and the wider world.

Smith's Wood Academy will value all students equally. Staff will strive to eliminate prejudice and discrimination and to develop an environment where all students can flourish and feel safe.

The school will engender a sense of community and belonging, and offer new opportunities to students who may have experienced previous difficulties. Smith's Wood will work collaboratively with Solihull SEN services and other outside agencies to offer the highest levels of support, challenge and educational provision for every student.

Smith's Wood Academy believes that educational inclusion is about equal opportunities for all students, whatever their age, gender, ethnicity, difficulty, disability, attainment levels and background. The school will pay particular attention to the provision for and the achievement of different groups of students including;

- Students with SEN;
- Students who are identified as having a disability;
- Students in receipt of Free School Meals;
- Those who are looked after by the local authority;
- Any student who are at risk of disaffection and exclusion.
- Any student who is underachieving

This report describes the way that Smith's Wood Academy will meet the needs of students who experience barriers to their learning and the steps it will take to remove those.

The school recognises that students learn at different rates and that there are many factors affecting achievement, including ability, emotional state, age and maturity. It is likely that all students will require help, support and challenge at times throughout their time at school.

Information and Guidance:

Who should I contact to discuss the concerns or needs of my child?

He is responsible for:

The day-to-day management of all aspects of the school, including the provision made for students with SEN.

Supporting school to evaluate and develop quality and impact of provision for students with SEN across the school.

Assessment, Planning and Review

How can I find out about how well my child is doing?

On-going monitoring takes place by students' teachers to identify students who are not making progress or who have behaviour needs which are affecting their ability to engage in learning activities.

After discussions with key staff and parents, additional support will be put into place to provide enhanced resources and/or targeted small group and/or individual support to help overcome any difficulties. The views of the student or young person about their support will be given consideration at this stage.

This additional support is documented in an individual provision map or student profiles. In consultation with the SENCO and parents, short term targets are agreed which prioritise key areas of learning or behaviour to address and by which progress can be measured. Where external agencies are involved, their advice and recommendations are included in these support programmes. Actions agreed take into account each student's strengths as well as their difficulties.

In some cases teaching assistant support may be allocated. This support is deployed to ensure your child can engage in lessons and wider school activities and to facilitate independent learning to support transition to adulthood.

Formal review meetings are held as required. Parents, relevant external agencies and when appropriate, students are invited to this review and their contribution is valued. The impact of support offered is considered along with the progress towards targets set. Support arrangements will be updated and revised accordingly. If not involved already, this might include referral to external agencies. The outcomes of these meetings will be formally recorded.

If your child is continuing to have significant difficulties, further external expertise may be requested. Further details about this process will be explained in the LA Local Offer. For further guidance please access Solihull Local Offer | solihull.gov.uk

For some student's additional arrangements and adjustments can be made to enable them to fully access a range of tests. This might include additional time, rest breaks or the use of a scribe or word processor. The SENCO will inform you about eligibility and applications for these arrangements.

Curriculum and Teaching Methods (including groupings and interventions) How will teaching be adapted to meet the needs of my child?

Teachers are trained in 'Quality First Teaching' and are skilled at adapting teaching to meet the diverse range of needs in each class at Smith's Wood Academy, and they have had a range of training from the Trust lead in this area. Differentiation is approached in a range of ways to support access and ensure that all students can experience success and challenge in their learning.

Additional adults are used flexibly to help groups and individual students with a long-term goal of developing independent learning skills. Monitoring takes place to avoid students becoming over reliant and dependent on this adult support.

Intervention

Access to learning and the curriculum

Access to learning support staff:

- In core subjects
- In practical subjects
- For group work

Strategies/programmes to support students with ASD:

- Small group mentoring or 1:1 sessions.

Transition

How will the school help my child move to a new group/year group or to a different school?

Children and young people with SEN can become particularly anxious about “moving on”, so we seek to support successful transition by:

When moving to another school/college : We will contact the center SENCO and share information about special arrangements and support that has been made to help your child achieve their learning goals

We will ensure that all records are passed on as soon as possible.

When moving groups/forms in school: Information shared with new teacher.

In year 7 transition: The SENCO will attend any annual reviews, meetings to discuss specific need of your child and the nature and level of support which has had the most impact.

In some cases additional multi-agency meetings may be arranged to create a more detailed “transition” plan which may include more visits to the old school and/or additional visits from the new school.

Staffing Expertise

How skilled are staff in meeting the needs of my child?

An ongoing programme of training is in place to ensure that teachers and support staff have appropriate skills and knowledge in areas that will improve their teaching and support of children with SEN. Recent training has covered :

SEN Code of Practice 2014

Pastoral support for children with SEN

Quality First teaching and meeting the needs of children with SEN

ASD and ADHD basic information

National College training opportunities for staff to take part in.

Our SENCO actively engages with local opportunities to share best practice and keep abreast of current local and national initiatives and policy to support students with SEN.

The school also seeks advice and guidance from local special schools to review, evaluate and develop provision for students who have the most complex needs.

We also have staff with specialised expertise and qualifications in school including:

Accredited SENCO (National Award)

Accredited Teaching Assistants
